

TOURS OF MALVERN HQ

Join us on a tour of the Saint-Gobain and CertainTeed North American Headquarters in Malvern, Pennsylvania, and learn how our company's broad portfolio of products work together to make this building perform based on the occupants' experience. More than 60 CertainTeed and Saint-Gobain products were used in the renovation.

Superior sight, sound and feel. On the tour, you'll hear how the building has changed the way that people feel in a structure that has walls, ceilings and a building envelope that actively cleans the air that we breathe, controls the sounds that we hear and provides us with the views and lighting that we need for a productive and positive workplace.

Saint-Gobain, one of the world's largest building materials companies and manufacturer of innovative material solutions, helps create great living spaces by combining comfort and sustainability—so on the tour, you'll see it's clear that we walk the talk. Our HQ is a double-LEED-Platinum structure, which is concrete evidence of the emphasis we place on the importance of comfort for our employees.

For more than three-and-a-half centuries, Saint-Gobain has been enhancing the wellbeing of people everywhere, whether it's by addressing climate change, delivering true sustainable development, advancing the information revolution, participating in medical breakthroughs or playing a vital role in space exploration—and this includes the productive, healthy work environment for our employees. As you walk through the Malvern location we hope you'll agree that it's a showpiece that helps to market who we are, as a responsible and sustainable company to customers, community and business leaders, as well as prospective employees.
